Distribution across Canada!

Our print magazine is positioned as Canada's organic farming and gardening magazine. With a distribution of over 2,500 hard copies, it is read by farmers, gardeners, homesteaders, consumers and others across Canada.

The magazine is distributed to COG's membership and donors as well as being available in over thirty newsstands and magazine shops across Canada, including the recent addition of Chapters and Indigo stores. With that, retail distribution is expected to grow even more in 2018!

The digital magazine has a distribution of over 3,000 copies. Our new digital subscriber strategy makes digital subscriptions easy, and, the new format is easier to read and allows readers to interact with advertisers and their websites. It is also accessible by most digital devices.

Our readers are always looking for quality organic products, services and inputs. And they are dedicated consumers! If your company wants to reach this market in a cost effective manner, then we would love to hear from you.
